OUTLINES.

It is estimated that between one hundred and one hundred and fifty lives were lost in the collision of the passenger steamer Columbia and the steam lumber schooner San Pedro, off the Pacific coast, near San Francisco yesterday morning before daylight; the steamer carried a large passenger list only a few of whom have been accounted for; particulars of the disaster are wanting but enough is known to indicate that the loss of life is appalling——At Asheville yesterday United States Circuit Judge Jeter C. Pritchard held that the penalty section of the North Carolina passenger rate bill is unconstitutional; the Southern agents who were indicted and sentenced to the roads by the Asheville police court justice were liberated on habeas corpus proceedings which gave rise to the opinion of Justice Pritchard; Governor Glenn issues a statement that the decision will be appealed from to the United States Supreme Court——At Raleigh yesterday habeas corpus proceedings in the case of Dr. and Mrs. Rowland were begun before Associate Justice of the Supreme Court Connor; a large amount of testimony is being introduced and the testimony will be continued a day or two longer——Karl Hau, the former Washington, D. C. professor on trial at Karlsruhe, Germany, for the murder of his mother-in-law was yesterday found guilty and has been sentenced to death—A statement is issued in Norfolk that the meeting of lumbermen called to be held in Sumter is not antagonistic to the general organization of the two Carolinas ——For four hours and a half yesterday E. F. Richardson pleaded with the jury at Boise, Idaho, for the life of William D. Haywood, on trial for the murder of Governor Steunenberg; the heat in the court room was terrible and court was adjourned until evening. ——New York markets: Money on call, steady, 2 1-2 to 2 3-4, ruling rate 2 3-4, closing bid 2 1-2, offered at 3; s pot cotton quiet and steady, closing at 12.95; flour steadier with a moderate demand; wheat firm, No. 2 red 96 1-2 elevator; corn firm, No. 2 59 1-2 elevator; oats steady, mixed 49 1-2; turpentine quiet; rosin steady.

That fine of thirty thousand dollars imposed on the Southern was a regular "flare-back."

"Pritchard takes a hand," is the head of a recent news article. And he will probably pass out on a bob-tail flush.

If Federal receivers to wind up the affairs of convicted trusts come as high in proportion as receivers of National banks, we are ready to concede that the trusts will come out of their hands completely busted.

The man who undertakes to defeat Senator Overman for a second term will encounter a flare-back of very large proportions. Overman, is strong and influential in Washington and is reflecting credit on his State.

Just as soon as Wade Harris, of the Charlotte Chronicle, returned from his recent visit to our seashore, where the girls "most do congregate," he "ups" and writes an editorial on "kissing." Naughty boy!

The increased valuations placed on property by the assessors this year will add an immense sum to the State's revenues; but it is better to have too much than too little. It is always easier to get rid of a surplus than it is to provide for a deficit.

Governor John A. Johnson, of Minnesota, is both "safe and sane." Read his views as printed on page two of the Star today. Among other things, he says: "I do not believe the government should do any business which can be done as well or better by private individuals, and I do not think the time has yet arrived when there should even be a suggestion of government ownership of railroads."

There is no longer a doubt that the tariff and trusts will be a leading issue in the next campaign. The spool cotton combine has raised the price of thread and it will now retail at seven cents a spool, with an intimation that it may go to ten cents. This will enlist all the women of the country in a crusade against trusts and tariff duties and the result will be a Democratic victory. Lay on, Mistress McDooffie!

It is time for the Democrats of North Carolina to be thinking about the sort of man they would like to nominate for Governor next year. To make a sucessful Governor it is not necessary that the incumbent be a lawyer or a politician. It is highly important, however, that a man be elected who will subordinate travel and oratory to the duties of his position. Strong common sense and trained business methods should be among his qualifications.

PRITCHARD'S ACTION

Declares Penalty Clause of State Rate Law Unconstitutional and Dismisses Agent.

HE MAKES A STATEMENT

Sad Day For North Carolina When Citizens are Denied Rights Guaranteed Under Constitution—Accepts Full Responsibility.

(By Associated Press.)

Asheville, N. C., July 22.—The penalty clause of the new State rate bill was declared unconstitutional and void by United States Judge Pritchard today. James H. Wood, district passenger agent of the Southern, and C. Wilson, the ticket agent of the same road, who were recently sentenced to thirty days on the chain gang for violation of the law, were discharged on habeas corpus proceedings.

In his decision Judge Pritchard said the penalties inflicted by the statute would close the doors to a judicial hearing and would amount to two and a half million dollars a day if the penalty was enforced on the sale of each ticket, which is eight times more than the amount involved in the original suit. Also that it would do violence to the comity, which exists between the State and Federal Courts. While not imputing any improper motives to officials or State Courts, Judge Pritchard remarked that if such a course of conduct was permitted to be pursued it would have the effect of defeating the jurisdiction of the United States Courts.

Continuing Judge Pritchard said:

"It will be a sad day for the people of North Carolina when its citizens are prohibited by acts of the Legislature from asserting any right guaranteed to them by the constitution of the United States. Suits of this character have been brought in different States of the Union and in every instance Federal courts have proceeded to determine questions involved without interference, hindrance or delay by Legislative or judicial authorities of such States.

"The equal protection of the law is guaranteed to every citizen of the United States and I shall employ all means within the power of the court to secure to all persons, who may invoke jurisdiction of this court, such rights to the fullest or the law. If the law is constructed in a spirit of fairness and impartially there can be no conflict of jurisdiction between the State courts and the courts of the United States.

"In this instance the Federal court has not been the aggressor but has simply adopted the regular practice and procedure which has been approved by the Supreme Courts of the United States in a case of like nature and while the United States Court is not inclined to do anything that will produce an unseemly conflict, nevertheless it is incumbent upon it to protect the rights of the parties to this controversy and the dignity and authority of this court. This cannot be accomplished without preserving to the fullest extent the jurisdiction of the court in determining the question which has been submitted to it for considerateon.

"If, in pursuing the well defined practice and procedure, with the sole view of maintaining the jurisdiction of this court, at any stage of the proceedings conflict must come, and I trust it may not, I shall not evade the responsibility which is imposed upon me as the presiding officer of this court."

Attorneys for the State have not given notice of appeal but they are expected to make some move very quickly. Governor Glenn telegraphed here askeng that Judge Pritchard withhold decision until E. J. Justice, attorney for the State and Speaker of the House could arrive, but all argument having been concluded Saturday, Judge Pritchard insisted upon rendering his decision at once. Many think the State authorities will take some action in the direction of more penalty suits. President Finley, General Counsel Thom and other officials of the Southern Railway, are awaiting the next move.

Judge Pritchard added, in connection with his statement as given above:

"This power is confronted with open and avowed opposition by the powers of the State. The penalties prescribed by the State statute for charging more than the statutory rates are so enormous that if permitted to be enforced they would practically bankrupt the railroads in an exceedingly brief time, and before a final hearing coud be had in the case, and thus place the complainant in a position where it would be powerless to assert the right guaranteed to it by the constitution of the United Staes.

"If the criminal prosecutions against the agents, conductors and employes are permitted to continue, the managers of the railroads cannot successfully operate their trains, carry the mails or continue their usefulness in Inter-State commerce.

"The State constitution, as wel as statutory law, afford ample protection to every person deprived of his liberty without due process of law. It is remarkable that any one repre-

BIG DOCKET FOR MONDAY

Mayor Had Usual Number of Penitents On the Bench Yesterday—Negroes Stripping a Steamer Were Captured—Other Cases.

The usual number of moral defective lined up before the Mayor to receive their medicine at the Monday session of the police court yesterday. While none of the cases was of special importance, there was enough doing to keep the court in session for something like an hour.

Lula Williams, Renn Baker and Lizzie Shepard formed a trio of disorderlies arrested by Officers Brinkley and Coleman at an early hour Sunday in a house near Seventh and Church. Alex Edwards, a colored man who said that he stepped in merely to tie his shoe and Sam Julius were connected with the same affair. The three women were of record and were given terms of 30 days each to the county farm. Edward escaped with $5 and costs and Julius will join the road improvement league.

Joe Kirkham and John Sykes, both white men, confessed to over-indulgence Saturday night and contributed $5 and costs each to the city exchequer.

Fred Smith, alias Hennegan, had led Mr. E. B. Moore, Officer Newton and a party of others a lively chase when found with goods on him that came off the Grayling, of the Wilmington and Southport Transportation Company. Sunday afternoon Hennegan and his partner, who made his escape, took a boat belonging to Alex. Mazingo, rowed over to the Grayling and proceeded to strip it of valuable brass couplings, lubricators and the like, besides cutting the steam hose. The boat was missed by Mazingo Sunday afternoon and he got after the negroes upon their return with it. They left precipitately and some of the stolen goods were left in the boat. This led to the subsequent arrest of Hennegan and he was bound to the higher court by the Mayor yesterday.

Henry Allen, the white man given a hearing Saturday on the charge of cruelty to animals in allowing a mule to be driven that had a very sore back, was represented by Herbert McClammy, Esq. The case was re-opened and Allen could not be fixed with knowledge of the condition of the mule and he was discharged with an admonition not to allow the mule to be worked further until the wound is healed.

John Benson, a negro arrested near the Eagle Steam Laundry Saturday night for drunkenness, was fined $5 and costs. G. D. Kelly a white man charged with being drunk, forfeited his bond and left.

TOURNAMENT NOTES.

Railroad Announce Rates—Firms Decorating—Accommodations Wanted.

Commissioner W. H. Fitzgerald, of the Associated Railways in Richmond, Va., has announced the rates for the Firemen's tournament to be held in Wilmington in August as previously published:

For indivuals the rate is one first class fare, plus 25 cents on basis of fares in effect prior to July 1st. For fire companies and bands in uniform ten or more, on one ticket, the rates for the round trip are from Charlotte, $4.10; Durham, 3.50; Henderson, $3.55; Hickory, $6.40; Monroe, $3.60; Oxford, $3.55; Raleigh, $2.95; Sanford, $2.60; Southern Pines, $2.60; Lumberton, $1.45; Maxton, $1.95; Monroe, $3.60; Asheville, $8.05; Fayetteville, $1.85; Newbern, $1.95; Mt. Olive, $1.55; Rocky Mount, $2.75; Tarboro, $3.40; Wadesboro, $2.95; Wilson, $2.40; Winston-Salem, $4.60.

These tickets are to be sold August 3rd to 8th inclusive, limited to return until August 14th. The individual tickets are to be sold August 4th to 9th inclusive, limited to August 14th, for return.

The merchants have taken right hold of the idea of decorating for the big event. The following have signified their purpose of giving outward sign of their welcome to the firemen of the State:

Julius P. Taylor, I. Shrier, The C. W. Polvogt Co., Engine Co. No. 1, Hose Wagon No. 1, Hook and Ladder Co., The Southern Building, People's Saving Bank, The Orton Hotel, Wilmington Cigar Co., W. T. Mercer & Co., H. F. Wilder and Geo. H. Heyer.

Many of the firemen are writing for accommodations at boarding houses, preferring these to the hotels. Mr. W. C. VonGlahn, secretary of the committee on accommodations, would be glad to have a list of boarding houses with rates where firemen may be entertained when they come.

The Boys' In Camp.

The Boys' Brigade is now comfortably encamped at Southport and reports form there yesterday are to the effect that the young soldiers are having the time of their lives. The camp has been named "Camp Instruction," which is regarded very appropriate in view of the routine of camp life through which the boys are put. The excursion tomorrow, leaving the city at 9:15 A. M. will carry a large party of friends to see the boys on their annual outing.

Don't neglect your eyes, come to us and talk it over, it will cost your nothing for examination or consultation. Spectables or eyeglasses correctly fitted to your eyes for $1.00 and up. Dr. Vineberg, the eye specialist, at Munds' drug store, Masonic Temple. jy 23 2t

THE SUPERIOR COURT

Two Weeks' Term For Trial of Criminal Causes Convened Yesterday Morning.

MANY SUBMISSIONS TAKEN

Judge Crawford Biggs Presiding and is Making Excellent Impression. No Reference to Railroad Law in Charge to Grand Jury.

New Hanover Superior Court convened yesterday morning at 10 o'clock Judge J. Crawford Biggs, of Durham, presiding. The term is for the trial of criminal cases only and will last two weeks unless the business of the sessions is sooner disposed of. The present term marks the first appearance of Judge Biggs on the bench here and it is not too much to say that he has already impressed the bar and public most favorably, not only as a presiding officer but personally. He impresses court attendants as having the judicial mind and a keen insight into general affairs. Remarkably fine progress was made on the docket yesterday and the work of the entire term is mapped out in a manner that augurs an immediate dispatch of the eighty-odd cases on the docket.

Wilmington being the headquarters of the Atlantic Coast Line and a centre of travel, it was expected that the judge's charge to the grand jury would include a reference to the railroad passenger rate law, which has kicked up such a frolic elsewhere in the State, but either Judge Biggs considered that the present cases instituted were sufficient to judicially determine the matter or regarded the technical violations as of no more importance, in the light of other developments, than other misdemeanors which were referred to in general terms. He made no reference whatever to the rate law and the railroads. His charge was clear, comprehensive and instructive, having been delivered in less than an hour.

The docket was at once entered upon and twenty-five or thirty cases were disposed of during the afternoon and evening sessions. Chief of public interest was perhaps the case against Fred Howland, white, charged with an assault with a deadly weapon upon Mr. N. E. Farrow, who keeps a saloon at Seventh and Chesnut streets and who was shot through the wrist and thigh by Howland last April while Mr. Farrow was ejecting the defendant from his store. Howland was represented by Herbert McClammy, Esq., and submitted his case. Mr. Marsden Bellamy appeared with Solicitor Duffy for the State and only enough evidence was heard to guide His Honor in passing sentence. Howland was given six months on the county roads. He has been in jail since the shooting.

The case of young Lonnie Snipes, charged with the killing of W. L. Williams in a house of ill fame last Summer, will be called up at 9 o'clock this morning for the purpose of agreeing upon a date for the trial. Snipes is recovering from an operation for appendicitis but it is presumed he will be brought in from the hospital. The request for the setting of a date for the trial was at the request of Messrs. Bellamy & Bellamy, Herbert McClammy and W. P. Gafford, counsel for the prisoned.

Joe Murphy, the young negro charged with inflicting the wound which subsequently caused the death of Ellis Benjamin, colored, at his home in Florence, S. C., the fight having taken place at the Champion Compress was brought into court during the day and Woodus Kellum, Esq., was assigned to defend him. George L. Peschau, Esq., having withdrawn from the case. Mr. Kellum will inform the court today as to what time he will be ready.

It was decided yesterday to fix the hours of the court from 9 A. M. to 2 P. M., the opinion being expressed that quite as much business can be transacted during one long morning session as during two short sessions, morning and afternoon.

Court met at 10 A. M. and the sheriff returned the jurors summoned for the term. Messrs. Theo. Biddle and George Honnett, Jr., were excused for the term. The following were drawn and empanelled as the grand jury for the term: G. W. Trask, A. B. Stokley, E. T. Taylor, J. A. Perry, B. P. Strickland, W. D. Rhodes, J. H. Burriss, J. P. Herring, J. A. Biddle, R. B. Moore, C. C. Harriss, W. E. Merritt, Neil McIntosh, N. F. Beasley, Henry Taylor, F. A. Muse, D. L. Millis and T. F. Floyd. When the panel was complete Mr. W. E. Merritt was sworn as foreman of the grand jury and Captain James H. Taylor was sworn as bailiff of the jury.

The opening hour of the court was devoted to clearing the docket of odds and ends. The following were the entries: Callie Smith, keeping baudy house; called and failed; instanter capias issued and returned not to be found. Hezekiah Miller, failure to pay costs; capias issued and costs paid. Teady Von, affray, continued. Thos. Little, assault with deadly weapon; nol pros with leave. Robert Pickett, carrying concealed weapon, alias capias and continued. Louise Willie, assault with deadly weapon, bill waived, defendant submits and is fined $10 and costs. Willi[illegible] Walker, carrying concealed weapon, defendant submits and is fined $20 and costs. Frank Jones, assault with deadly weapon; submits and sentenced to six months on roads. Jhon Montgomery, larceny; nol pros with leave. Walter Guion, nol prosse with leave. Walter Holland, abandonment and non support, continued under former order. John Jones, larceny, instanter nisi sci fa and capias. Jas. Hatch, larceny, nol pros with leave. Ella Nixon, nuisance, nol pros with leave. Henry Smith, carrying concealed weapon, continued under former order. Neal Blackman, carrying concealed weapon, nol pros with leave; same entry as to resisting an officer. David Merrick, assault with deadly weapon, nol pros with leave. Vance Cottle, carrying a concealed weapon and interfering with an officer; bill waived and pleaded guilty; defendant fined $25 and $10 and costs respectively. Thos. Hampton, assault with deadly weapon, called and failed. Edw. H. Austin, carrying concealed weapon; fined $20 and costs. Ernest Lyons, carrying concealed weapon, judgment suspended on payment of costs.

John Rhodes, the negro who resisted Officer S. A. Nichols at Second and Orange streets Saturday night a week ago, was given trial on that count and also for carrying a concealed weapon. His was the first jury trial of the day, all the others having been submissions. Rhodes was found guilty of carrying a concealed weapon and was sentenced to the roads for three months. He submitted to resisting an arrest and judgment was suspended.

George Roderick, charged with an assault with a deadly weapon, was brought in from the roads for trial, but he stated that he was not ready for trial on account of having had no opportunity to summons witnesses. He was not represented by counsel but said he hoped to engage an attorney later. Roderick is the man who some time ago held a party of policemen at bay in the street in front of his house, having finally been closed in on by Police Captain George Smith as he stood with his gun leveled at the other officers. He had previously been tried by the Mayor for being drunk and disorderly and for shooting a gun in the streets on each of which counts he was given 30 days on the roads.

Archie Bell, charged with an assault with a deadly weapon pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 90 days on the roads.

In case of State vs. Rowland King, charged with non support, defendant was called and failed; bond of $25 with J. O. Brown as surety was forfeited.

George Lowe, charged with carrying a concealed weapon, was fined $25 and costs. Spencer Brown, for the larceny of two buckets of candy from the Atlantic Coast Line was given six months on the roads. George Grady, charged with the larceny of coal from the Atlantic Coast Line was given four months.

ROWLANDS WANT LIBERTY

Habeas Corpus Proceedings Begun Yesterday in Raleigh Before Associate Justice Connor—Both Sides Presented Testimony.

(By Associated Press).

Raleigh, N. C., July 22.—Dr. and Mrs. D. S. Rowland, in jail indicted for the murder in March by poison of Charles R. Strange, Mrs. Rowland then being his wife, are today seeking release under habeas corpus proceedings before Associate Justice Connor, of the Supreme Court. The hearing will continue for several days.

Today the defendants introduced testimony to show that Srange had heart disease and had been treated for it; that no symptom of poison had been found in his stomach, that his death was perfectly natural.

The State introduced testimony to show that poison might have been used hypodermically without leaving a trace; that Strange had never suffered from heart disease, was a remarkably healthy man. It also showed intimate relations between Strange's wife and Drf. Rowland for two years past, and that once in the West Strange was taken with a sudden illness, which he ascribed to pills given him by his wife. Counsel for the State in argument set out that they will show the purchase of poison by Dr. Rowland two days before Strange died, and that Dr. Rowland was alone with Strange at the time.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 22.—The case for the State is being conducted by Solicitor Armistead Jones, Col. T. M. Argo, Elmer Shaffer, and Walter Clark, Jr., for the prosecution (retained by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Strange having been a member of the Brotherhood), and Col. J. C. L. Harris, J. N. Holding, Walter Watson, S. G. Ryan and T. T. Hicks for the defence.

An amusing thing in connection with the hearing is that the prisoners in crossing the "bridge of sighs," from the jail to the court room have their heads hooded in newspapers to prevent any attempts they fear might be made to catch snap shots of them.

They and their counsel are equally alert during the sittings of court lest some photographer or amateur should snap them unawares. The reason for this is that thus far all attempts to get pictures of Dr. Rowland for newspapers have been in vain.

NOTHING IS GIVEN OUT

Governor Gives Out Another Statement—Courses That the Litigation is Likely to Take—Number of Charters Issued Yesterday.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 22.—Governor Glenn issues a statement relative to the struggle between the State and Southern Railway Company on the enforcement of the State rate act. It is an answer to the statement by President Finley, of the Sothern, given out Saturday night in Asheville. He reviews the cause of the State and Railroad company and sums up as follows:

"The State has in every instance obeyed all orders legally made against it by the Federal Court; but the railroads have refused wilfully to recognize a single order or judgment of the State court. They treat it as a nullity, refuse appeal from its judgments, though this is the "orderly way," and try to carry every case from it to the Federal tribunal. In a legal way the Corporation Commission and private persons will obey Judge Pritchard's decree that effects them, and try their case before him, carrying same if aggrieved before the highest court. I ask all fair minded people, whether it is the railroad or the State "trying to hamper or interfere with the orderly course of judicial procedure." I cannot agree with one of the railroad attorneys who said State's rights ended in 1865. The State has rights, and I dare to maintain them against encroachments of the Federal Court at the request of the railroads. The State will do nothing rash or revolutionary, but it will maintain its dignity by using every lawful means to enforce its laws. In every way possible that is honorable and in accordance with State's rights, I am willing to meet the railroads in trying to settle this unfortunate complication. But they only insist on the State allowing them to ignore our laws and our courts and be tried in a court of their own choosing, and then when we refuse they say the State is hampering justice and denying their rights.

Asked if he had any statement relative to the ruling of Judge Pritchard in the Asheville cases, the Governor said he did not, except that he had directed Judge Merrimon to appeal the case at once to the United States Supreme Court. He takes this ruling of Judge Pritchard to mean that there will issue soon a writ of some sort to try to hold up the execution against the Southern for the $30,000 fine imposed here last week.

Ex-Governor Aycock and E. J. Justice, of counsel for the State in the sensational railroad passenger rate litigation against the Southern Railway Company, were here in conference for some time this morning with Governor Glenn relative to the future course of the State in steps to compel the Southern and the Atlantic Coast Line to put in operation the 2 1-4-cent rate, pending the decision of the North Carolina and the United States Supreme Courts, as to the constitutionality of the act. No statement was given out at the conclusion of the conference, but the above statement was later issued from Governor Glenn addressed to the people of the State relative to the matter. Ex-Governor Aycock, when asked if the climax as to sensational features in the case was passed, expressed a doubt, intimating that the battle was scarcely begun.

The special object of the Governor and his advisers is to force the case through the State Supreme Court instead of having it jumped from the State Superior Court to the United States District Court. There is a long line of precedents for the United States Supreme Court to decide cases as nearly as possible in line with the findings of the State Supreme Courts when they have passed on the case, before it reaches the United States Supreme Court. On the other hand, it is the policy of the United States Supreme Court to construe cases with a view to sustaining the District Courts when the cases have come through that channel, this policy not implying at all, however, that any bias is allowed to influence the court in either event. There is just that advantage to either litigant in which ever course the cases may take. The State authorities are confident that the State Supreme Court would sustain the act. The railroad companies are equally confident that the Circuit Court would find it unconstitutional, hence the struggle for securing first construction favorable to the contending litigants.

A number of charters were issued today. The Neuse Milling Company, of Smithfield, $50,000 capital, by E. J. Holt and others. The Piedmont Sanitarium for the treatment and cure of tuberculosis, at Greensboro, incorporators, J. E. Dillinger, S. G. Atkins, and J. B. Dudley. The Patterson-Young Mercantile Company, of China Grove, Rowan county, capital $40,000, by W. G. Patterson and others. The Lawrence Brothers Company, States-

JOHN A. JOHNSON.

While Governor Johnson, of Minnesota, is reported to have said that he is not a candidate for the Democratic Presidential nomination, this does not mean that he would not accept a nomination if tendered him. At any rate, he is becoming a prominent figure in the politics of the country, some Democrats favoring him for the Presidency, while others favor him for the Vice Presidency. It will, therefore, prove of interest to know where he stands on the leading issues of the day. The following tels the story:

In his recent public utterances Governor Johnson has outlined the policies which the Democratic party should emphasize in the next campaign. Among other things, he has said:

"It seems to me that the slogan of the Democratic party in the next campaign, and in every succeeding campaign until the question is settled, should be a revision of the tariff. A most thorough revision, mind you, for it is on this point that I disagree with the President of the United States. I believe that the tariff, more than any other cause, has a direct bearing on trusts, and places a burden, direct and indirect, upon the people of the country, benefitting no general class and good only to a privileged few. Upon this question the Democratic party certainly stands united, and upon all other matters the Democratic party stands with the people, and its position is so well established that it can, I believe, be taken for granted that while we are fighting for a tariff revision, we at the same time are for a proper enforcement of the law, and a control of all the industrial, transportation and commercial evils which now confront us."

"What do you think of President Roosevelt's idea of federal rather than State control of State railways?" he was asked.

"I do not agree with the President. I believe the States must be absolute in their authority to regulate and control railway rates of transportation and other matters pertaining to railroad regulation on business wholly within the States; that Federal regulation must be limited to inter-State business."

"What do you think of the idea of the ultimate ownership of railways by the government?"

"I believe the government should do no business which can be done as well or better by private individuals, and I do not think the time has yet arrived when there should even be a suggestion of government ownership of railroads. The laws we have, and those the people can have if they choose, will give to the public ample power to control and regulate common carriers, and until every legal means is exhausted, I believe the government and the States should not engage in the ownership of common carriers."

On a subsequent occasion Governor Johnson said:

"Do you ask for a catalogue of patriotic opportunities? Do you ask to have the problems of the republic, the enemies of the people, labelled and marshalled for your inspection? You will find them on every hand among the hosts of special privilege, wherever a public law, a public right, a public trust, the public treasury, the public property, powers, and privileges are devoted to a private end, or whenever the public interest is subordinated to that of a class.

"You will find them in the great question of trust domination, giant-born and flourishing under a conflict of law which at one and the same time prohibits its existence and yet protects and fosters its development. Or in the great problem of transportation with railroad corporation enthroned upon eighteen billion dollars of capital securities, endowed by the government with the sovereign power of eminent domain, collecting tolls now aggregating two billions of dollars per annum, or over three times the aggregate revenues of the national government, and the nation only feebly and imperfectly able to control its means of transportation.

"Or again in the problem of the status and condition of the colored man, still, after nearly a century of argument and conflict, one of the most profound and vexatious problems since the days when the children of Israel contended with Pharaoh. It took Garrison, Phillips, and their contemporaries years to arouse America to a realization that slavery was not for America. It cost the country a war lasting five years and an expenditure of lives and money beyond calculation. The problem was not even then worked out to its final successful conclusion, for there is arising upon our national horizon this same question of the races. Its solution is being deferred because the master mind has not worked out the science of its law of gravitation and America still awaits him. There are those who say that the solution of this great question is education; if so, it is one with which men of education are required to deal.

"Demanding the best and most careful national thought is the question of our colonial possessions. This nation was born under the doctrine of the inalienable right of self government, a protest against the theory of foreign possession and colonial rule; while today we are a mother country, denying to our colonial subjects even the rights and privileges guaranteed in our constitution, from which our government derives its powers, and denying that this constitution controls our sceptre or follows our flag. It is of no avail now to discuss whether the war of the Philippines was just or unjust; whether the acquisition was wise or unwise. The condition remains that the Philippines are ours, both by right of conquest and purchase. The lands are today under the American flag, but it becomes America to deal with the people of that far-away country with the same fairness with which we treat each other. The theory of our government, yea, our own constitution, guarantees equality to all who are subject to national control. It may have been an error to have taken them, an error to have kept them; but whatever the mistakes of the past, that the present condition cannot continue permanently is self-evident. It is our duty to bend every energy to bring the people of what are ow called the American dependencies to such a condition that the blessings of constitutional government shall be enjoyed by them as fully and freely as by ourselves, and by conferring win the love of the people.

"America can less afford to rule by despotism than any other nation on the earth. It must rule by love and affection and maintain for all the people strict equality before the law.

"There are evils in our body politic; evils which, while they do not seriously threaten the life of the nation, are doing great injury to the many whose toil and earnings support it. The inflation of values, the creation of monopolies, the concentration of wealth in the hands of a few, conferring upon them the power to promote or destroy any industrial transportation, or commercial enterprise, are evils which must be removed, because to those who have been given this power has come the intoxication which sudden wealth too often produces. Riotous indulgence in these excesses must bring, if continued, eventual destruction.

"The right to enjoy property is guaranteed under the constitution, and it can be denied to no citizen. Just how far this right goes is open to dispute. Doubtless great achievements are rendered more easily possible by the aggregation of the wealth of many into one common enterprise or corporation; but this done, the question arises, How far must the right of individuals be subordinate to the corporate powers thus by law conferred? In the industrial and transportation realms there have been certain encroachments upon the right of those who labor, as well as the interests of shippers and consumers, and to such an extent as to excite popular prejudice against capital and its corporate aggressions.

"There must naturally be a happy medium, which will enable us all to share in the blessings of American opportunity and American institutions. Capital invested in enterprise must be given a fair chance to earn a fair return upon its investment. Men who have legitimately acquired much property must be made to feel that there is safety in the form of government under which it exists; but the people also must be secured in their rights, must stand exempt from monopolistic exactions, and enjoy the confidence that the law will not protect a man just because he is rich. Moreover, labor must be sure of a fair and humane treatment and a just and liberal reward. The sovereign power which permits a corporation to exist must reserve the right to supervise and regulate its acts so that there will be honesty and justice, moderation and equality, in the discharge of the corporation's semi-public functions."

CURRENT COMMENT.

—President Roosevelt's undiluted Socialism, which must seem like an impossibly beautiful dream to such honest toilers in the field of political spoliation as Herr Bebel or M. Jaures, has this comfort, however, that he will probably change his mind before the week is out. Meantime the country is suffering from these violent, but not uncommon, outbreaks of a mania for curing all ills by the new process of Rooseveltian inspiration.—Richmond Times-Dispatch (Dem).

—Atlanta business men have concluded to take a hand in the Georgia prohibition fight. As a starter they want the proposed law to go in effect January 1, 1909, instead of January 1, 1908—a very reasonable request. There are a number of breweries and distilling establishments in the State would prove total losses to their owners unless time is given for closing them out and disposing of them or other business. Whether business will succeed over fanaticism gone mad, remains to be seen. The vote will be taken next Wednesday. — Chattanooga Times, (Dem).

—The Raleigh Times does not believe that "self-respecting citizens of North Carolina who have any regard at all for their fellowmen, will try to intimidate or otherwise persuade railroad conductors into accepting cash fares on the trains at the rate of two and a quarter cents per mile, when they know that the conductors themselves will have to make up the difference of one cent a mile out of their own pockets." Yet there are some self important people who are doing this very thing. It is poor policy to wreak vengeance on the railroads through the conductors and the traveling public in general condemns it. It was only the other day that this writer saw a rather high tempered drummer give a conductor all the trouble he could, and the drummer was rewarded by the silent disapproval of everybody in the car.—Charlotte Chronicle (Dem).

A MYSTERY OF THE SEA.

The Puzzling Beeswax of the Beaches of Oregon.

Of all the secrets held by the flotsam and jetsam of many years none is stranger than that of the beeswax of the Oregon beaches. Long before the white man came to the great northwest by ship or prairie schooner vessels from the orient had skirted the coast. Bits of wreckage have told the story of Chinese junks gone to pieces on the shore, but the most curious evidence of this eastern traffic has been found on the Oregon coast south of the Columbia river. Mr. Clarke gives an account of this treasure trove in his "Pioneer Days."

When Lewis and Clark made their famous expedition they learned that the native Indians of Oregon had for many years found lumps of beeswax on the sandy shores.

Beeswax is practically indestructible in water, but these pieces had pounded in the surf until they were black and battered almost beyond recognition.

In 1814 one Henry, engaged in the fur trade, wrote an account of finding masses of this wax. The pieces were scattered over a wide stretch of coast and were now covered, now uncovered, by the blowing sand. Some of the lumps were softened into all shapes and sizes by the heat of the sun and bleached nearly white. Others were square and stamped with strange characters.

In 1895 a Mr. Howell, walking on the beach, saw something exposed in the sand. It proved to be the corner of some large squares of beeswax weighing several tons. Many smaller blocks were also found, all bearing the stamped letters "I H S." Besides the squares of wax, quantities of large candles were discovered. In looking up the matter it was learned that as far back as records ran these tapers had been found with the wax on the shore.

Of course the explanation may be that some oriental ship bearing church supplies for a mission farther south went to pieces on the Oregon coast many, many years ago, but what would a ship bound for Mexico or South America be doing so far north, and what use could any mission have for such an enormous quantity of wax?

Uranus.

It was on the evening of March 13, 1781, that William Herschel, at Slough, England, discovered a new planet. Wishing to pay a compliment to George III., his patron, he gave it the name of Georgium sidus, or the Georgian star. Other English astronomers, wishing to compliment the discoverer himself, suggested the name of Herschel. Continental astronomers proposed that the old mythological system be followed, and the name of Uranus was accepted by the scientific world as the designation of the seventh planet.

IT IS SERIOUS.

Some Wilmington People Fail to Realize the Seriousness.

The constant aching of a bad back.
The weariness, the tired feeling,
The pains and aches of kidney ills
Are serious—if neglected.
Dangerous urinary troubles follow.

A Wilmington citizen shows you how to avoid them.

J. E. Bloodworth, formerly residing at 30 South Front street and employed at 123 Princess street, Wilmington, N. C., says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they have proven to be a valuable remedy and I believe I am safe in recommending them. My back and kidneys have given me great trouble. I thought I had rheumatism. I had shooting pains through my back and sides which often made me yell right out. If I stood, sat or lay down or kept in any one position for any length of time it was almost impossible for me to move on account of the great pain. I heard some one speak of Doan's Kidney Pills and sent to Bellamy's drug store and got a box. They completely removed the pains. They are without doubt a valuable remedy for backache."

The Star congratulates him on his success.

Married Sunday Evening.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Daniels, on Dock street, Sunday night at 9 o'clock Justice G. W. Bornemann performed a very pretty wedding ceremony which joined in marriage Miss Ada Warren, of Cumberland county, and Mr. J. W. Bailey, of this city formerly of Dunn, N. C. After the ceremony the bride and groom received the happy congratulations of the many assembled to witness the marriage.

LOCAL DOTS.

—A building permit was issued yesterday to Geo. E. Burnett to build a four room dwelling to cost $450, on Dawson, between Fifth and Sixth streets.

—The case against Dr. "Bill" Moore, charged with false pretense, was continued in Justice Bornemann's court yesterday until 8:30 o'clock this morning. The trial promises to be quite interesting.

—The shaving parlors of W. R. Morrison & Co., on Market street, announce a special offering to the ladies in the Business Locals column of today's Star. The offer is of interest.

—Beach Policeman G. R. Holt, at the Ocean View bath house Saturday afternoon found a full set of upper false teeth. The molars evidently belong to some man and as Officer Holt has no use for them, he would be glad if the owner would call on him at Lumina and receive them.

—The "Black Maria," otherwise the police patrol wagon is at the shops of the Carolina Wagon Works for a general overhauling. It is to be fitted with a new set of wheels, new gong and is to be repainted. At the present the department is using a hack for hauling "drunks" to the lock-up.

—Work was begun yesterday on the building of the new office partition for the Chief of Police in the room assigned to the Mayor at the City Hall. The Mayor's office will shortly be fitted up with the handsome furniture that arrived a few days ago for this purpose.

—Banks Rodwell, colored tenant on Mr. Owen Martindale's place near the city, was before Justice Bornemann yesterday charged with an assault on two colored girls. The hearing lasted for more than two hours, Mr. Gafford appearing for the defendant and Mr. Kellum for the prosecution. The case was finally settled and all hands chipped in to pay the costs.

—T. J. Howard, a former attache of the place, was arrested in the Academy Five Cent Theatre yesterday afternoon charged with disorderly conduct. He was arrested at the request of C. L. Martin, the man who operates the machine against whom he had some grudge and whom he was abusing. The arrest was by Officer E. R. Chadwick and Howard was locked up for trial by the Mayor today at noon.

—A large number of blue fish, trout and pig fish were caught off the trestle over Banks Channel at Wrightsville Beach yesterday. Mrs. Hanby, wife of Dr. Joseph Hanby, who is here from Texas on a visit to relatives, landed a fine trout that weighed six and a half pounds. This was in addition to a number of other varieties.

—Judge Bornemann had another Chinese complication to unravel yesterday, Lucy Moore, a negress, charged Hopp Lee with failure to pay her 50 cents that was due for work in the laundry of the Oriental. Hopp hopped into court, confessed jurgment and was taxed with the cost. Then he indicted Lucy Moore for the larceny of a shirt waist from the laundry. The latter case was continued until today at 11 o'clock.

HER DEATH WAS SUDDEN

Mrs. Carrie Loftin Crawford Passed Away Sunday Evening at Sound

Mrs. Carrie Loftin Crawford, wife of Mr. P. L. Crawford, of the firm of Cavenaugh & Crawford, special agents in this city of the North State Mutual Life Insurance Company, died suddenly at the family home on Wrightsville Sound Sunday night at 8:30 o'clock. Mrs. Crawford was as well as usual during the day and ate a hearty supper in the evening. After supper she was seated with members of the family and friends on the porch of the residence when she was suddenly attacked with heart disease and was assisted inside the house by those present. Others hurried to the station at Wrightsville to summons a physician and Dr. F. H. Russell was fortunately found there. He hastened to the home of Mr. Crawford but it was too late, Mrs. Crawford breathing her last in a few minutes after he reached her. Mrs. Crawford was a native of Kinston and was 31 years of age. She possessed a bright, lovable disposition and her death is greatly regretted by many friends made during the family's brief residence here. There are surviving her husband and two little children who have the sincere sympathy of all in their bereavement. The remains were brought up to the city and taken to Kinston on the morning northbound train yesterday, accompanied by the stricken husband, children, a sister, Miss Loftin; Mr. Gray Taylor and Mr. J. A. Northam friends of the family. The pallbearers to the station were Messrs. N. J. Northam J. A. Northam, Eli Cavenaugh, E. C. Craft, Gray Taylor and M. T. Breazeale. A number of very pretty floral tributes were placed on the casket by friends here. The funeral services will be held at Kinston.

SHIPMENTS OF TRUCK.

Cantaloupe Season in Full Blast Around Faison, N. C.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Faison, N. C., July 22.—This section is now en the midst of "canteloupe season"—having shipped on Saturday 5,000 crates, with the Monday shipments showing about as well. Along with this large amount of cantelopues, there were moved also a big lot of green peppers, corn, and some okra, all of which is bringing fair returns. The great variety of soils on a given area, enables these truckers to grow a variety of crops—something to sell from February to September, and then come the staples, cotton, tobacco, and corn. The soil adjacent to Faison produces the sweetest flavored canteloupe, and the reputation is steadily growing for this particular product; now a hundred acres are grown where one was a few years back. The dry weather during "the sweetening period," adds much to the already good quality.

Railway Property Assessed.

(By Associated Press.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 22.—The North Carolina Corporation Commission today gave out the new assessment for taxation of railroad property in the State, and there is an increase on all roads except the Seaboard Air Line. The assessment shows an increase of $14,132,498 over 1906, the valuation of all the roads in the State this year, having been $70,077,361, the new figures being $84,210,859.

The Seaboard remains at $12,500,000, which is $20,424 a mile. The Atlantic Coast Line is increased from $24,454,014 to $28,434,900, this being from $25,800 a mile to $30,000 a mile, an increase of 20 per cent. The Southern Railway is increased from $26,464,939 to $33,372,263, this being from $20,042 a mile to $25,572, an increase of 25 per cent. On the North Carolina Railroad, which is leased by the Southern from the State, and which is 223 miles long, the increase is from $6,630,000 to $10,573,762, this being an increase from $29,923 a mile to $47,373, or nearly 60 per cent.

The entire increase in the State assessment of railroad, telegraph, telephone, street railway, electric and gas companys amounts to $15,032,924, the increase being from $76,250,549 to $91,283,473.

NORTHEAT RIVER BRIDGE.

Pender Commissioners Invited to Final Conference on Subject.

Chairman D. McEachern, of the New Hanover Board, yesterday addressed an invitation to Chairman K. F. Powers, of the Pender County Commissioners, asking him to name a date on which his board can come to Wilmington for a conference with the New Havover officials on the proposed Northeast river bridge at Castle Haynes. Chairman McEachern has an estimate of $30,000 on the cost of the structure at the Blossom Ferry, which is now regarded the only practicable crossing of the five surveyed by Capt. Walter G. MacRae, the engineer selected by the two boards. It is expected that a reply will be received from Chairman Powers in a few days and that an early date will be named for the conference.

Simmons-Bonitz Affair at Beach Investigated Tomorrow.

The case of Contractor Thos. N. Simmons charged with an assault in which serious injury was done to Architect H. E. Bonitz at Wrightsville Beach Saturday morning, was continued in Justice Bornemann's court yesterday until 10 o'clock Wednesday morning. While Mr. Bonitz was up and able to be about his cottage on the beach yesterday, he was too unwell to be in court, hence the continuance. Mr. Bonitz is much improved and his condition was perhaps not so bad as it was represented by some. Simmons is continued under the same bond of $500 in the assault case and an additional bond of $500 on a peace warrant.

North Carolina's Mark Twain.

The Philadelphia Inquirer in its notes of the Elks' doings the past week, has the following that will be read with interest by his numerous friends here: "Joe Leitner, first cousin of Mark Twain and known in the South as 'Young Mark Twain,' will parade at the head of the Wilmington, N. C., Lodge in the parade tomorrow. He is the Exalted Ruler of his home lodge and is a prominent Tarheel architect. He has a reputation, also, in the South for humor and is much in demand as a speaker at social sessions of Elks."

MR. J. M. BRYAN DEAD

Well Known Citizen of County Passed Away Sunday Morning.

Mr. J. M. Bryan, a well known truck grower living near Winter Park Gardens, died Sunday morning at his home at 6:20 o'clock after a lingering illness with tuberculosis. Mr. Bryan was 39 years of age and was formerly of Bladen county. He was highly respected by all in the circle of his acquaintance. He married a daughter of the late Hezekiah Bonham and she with four children survive him. They have the sympathy of many friends in the loss they have suffered.

The remains were carried Sunday afternoon to the home of Mr. Alexander Bryan, near the Four Mile Battery and the funeral was conducted there at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, the interment being in the family burying ground.

The Baseball Score Wrong Again.

By a queer transposition of the lines in Sunday's paper, it was made to appear that the Rattlers had defeated the Giants by a score of eight to one when it should have been exactly the reverse. The Giants were the winners and should have so been credited in the standing of the clubs. It is hoped that such an error will not occur again.

Infant Died at Tarrymoore.

The five months old infant of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Ray, of Rocky Mount, died late Saturday at the Hotel Tarrymoore, on Wrightsville Beach, where the child had been brought some days before with the hope that the change of climate would be benficial. The remains were taken by the bereaved parents to Rocky Mount Sunday morning for interment.

STATE OF NORTH CAROLINA, DEPARTMENT OF STATE—CERTIFICATE OF DISSOLUTION.

To All to Whom These Presents May Come—Greeting:

Whereas, It appears to my satisfaction, by duly authenticated record of the proceedings for the voluntary dissolution thereof by the unanimous consent of all the stockholders, deposited in my office, that the Interstate Machinery & Supply Company, a corporation of this State, whose principal office is situated at No. 204 North Water Street, in the City of Wilmington, County of New Hanover, State of North Carolina, T. J. Pratt being the agent therein and in charge thereof, upon whom process may be served), has complied with the requirements of Chapter 21, Revisal of 1905, entitled "Corporations," perliminary to the issuing of this Certificate of Dissolution:

Now, Therefore, I, J. Bryan Grimes, Secretary of State of the State of North Carolina, do hereby certify that the said corporation did, on the 25th day of October, 1906, file in my office a duly executed and attested consent in writing to the dissolution of said corporation, executed by all the stockholders thereof, which said consent and the record of the proceedings aforesaid are now on file in my said office as provided by law.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereto set my hand and affixed my official seal, at Raleigh, this 25th day of October, A. D. 1906.

(Official Seal.)

J. BRYAN GRIMES.

HARD TIMES SALE AT Wilmington's Great,
Furniture Store.

Hard times seem to strike every place at the same time. Some manufacturers who had large stocks in warehouses, and not many cash orders, came to us a few weeks ago and made special prices for cash. We managed to raise the cash. Both steamers brought goods. One car load came in by rail. We now offer, while they last, Iron Beds, Oak Dressers, amongthe lot some nobby Princess Dressers, Chiffoniers, Wardrobes, Rockers, Sideboards and Center Tables, at real hard-time prices for cash.

senting the State should oppose the granting of the writ of habeas corpus.

"Much has been said in regard to the power of a court of equity to enjoin the prosecution of a criminal case. In the case of Dobbins vs. Los Angeles, Justice Day, who delivered the opinion of the court, in discussing this phase of the question, said:

"'It is well settled that where property rights will be destroyed, unlawful interference by criminal proceedings, under a void law or ordinance may be reached and controlled by a decree of a court of equity.'

The decision said the question of the sovereignty of the State is not involved, the real question being "whether this court shall be denied full jurisdiction of the subject at issue."

Glenn On the Decision.

Raleigh, N. C., July 22.—Governor Glenn stated tonight that in regard to Judge Pritchard, of the Federal Court, having released under habeas corpus proceedings the two Southern Railway ticket agents at Asheville, and having declared the criminal penalty section of the State railway law unconstitutional, that he had wired the State's attorney to appeal at once to the United States Supreme Court.

He states that even if section 4, the criminal penalty section, is stricken out, the law is not affected and the Southern Railway can be indicted under the common law, but that he does not for a moment believe that Judge Pritchard's decision that section 4 is unconstitutional, will besustained by the United States Supreme Court.

Gutters Must Be Attended to.

In response to a demand for an enforcement of an ordinance passed last year, the Mayor yesterday instructed Chief of Police Williams to make a tour of the city and prepare for him a list of all buildings from which the water is drained across sidewalks in gutters not below the surface. The Mayor says that as long as the ordinance is on the books he will enforce it in all cases where it is practicable and that when the list is in his hands he will first notify property owners to make the required changes and if this is not done, he will be obliged to proceed according to law.

Pastor Granted Vacation.

At the regular meeting of the official board of Bladen Street M. E. Church last night, the popular pastor of the congregation, Rev. A. J. Parker, was granted a vacation of three weeks, beginning August 12th. Mr. Parker with members of the family, will go to Jamestown for a visit to the Exposition, and will later return to spend some time at Mr. Parker's old home at Woodland, Northampton county, and at Roanoke Island. The vacation is deserved and friends hope that Rev. Mr. Parker will be benefitted by the brief respite from his pastoral duties.

District Conference This Week.

Pastors and delegates from the Methodist churches of the Wilmington district will leave this afternoon and tomorrow morning for Whiteville to attend the district conference of the church, which will be in session three days. Rev. A. J. Parker, of Wilmington, will preach the opening sermon. The delegates from Bladen Street Church are Messrs. F. V. Huggins, T. W. Brown, C. J. McKoy, and B. C. Moore.

Long Live The King.

is the popular cry throughout European countries; while in America, the cry of the present day is "Long live Dr. King's New Discovery, King of Throat and Lung remedies!" of which Mrs. Julia Ryder Paine, Truro, Mass., says: "It never fails to give immediate relief and to quickly cure a cough or cold." Mrs. Paine's opinion is shared by a majority of the inhabitants of this country. New Discovery cures weak lungs and sore throats after all other remedies have failed; and for coughs and colds it's the only sure cure. Guaranteed by R. R. Bellamy, Druggist. 50c and $1.00. LITERARY IMPOSTORS.

Many Clever Writers Who Have Deceived the World.

Clever literary impostors who have deceived the world are numerous. Gamelli Carrieri, a Neapolitan gentleman and scholar, while confined to his room for a long period of years by illness amused himself by writing an account of an imaginary voyage round the world. When the volume was published, it was taken as a fact even by learned people.

The detailed account of a trip to China which is credited to Du Halde is another literary hoax. The author had never seen China and had been sufficiently clever to compile the work solely from the memoirs of Chinese missionaries.

It is remarkable, though no less a fact, that "Gulliver's Travels" was thought to be a true narrative when it first appeared, and the famous story of Damberger's travels was likewise a hoax.

Varillas, the French historian, enjoyed a wide reputation as a chronicler of events, but later it was discovered that his works were purely fakes. The volumes of this writer resemble those of Gregorio Reti, who, in order to keep himself from starving, appended the most unheard of incidents to English history as it was known.

One of the most daring impostures on record is that of Joseph Vella of Sicily. He said that he discovered seventeen of the lost books of Livy in Arabic. He then set to work and wrote a translation from his fancy, which was printed. After his death the fraud was discovered. Before his death, however, he fell under suspicion and was condemned to imprisonment.

There are countless cases of authors selling their names to be put on works they have never read. Sir John Hill once contracted to translate a Dutch book. After the agreement he remembered that he did not know a word of Dutch. He then bargained with another translator to do the work for half the price he was to receive.

"Newspaper Day" in England.

March 11 ought to be named "newspaper day," for on it, in the year 1702, was published the first daily paper. It was produced by E. Mallet, "against the ditch at Fleet bridge"—i. e., on or near the site of the present Printing House square. Of a single page, two columns, the Daily Courant professed to give foreign news only, without editorial comments, the chief of staff "supposing other people to have sense enough to make reflections for themselves." This original sheet soon passed into the hands of Samuel Buckley, "at the sign of the Dolphin in Little Britain," the worthy printer of the Spectator and one "well affected" to the house of Hanover. The Courant was in 1735 absorbed in the Daily Gazette.—London Chronicle.

The Arctic Has Attractions.

"I cannot imagine," said the woman with the short sleeves, "why in the world Eskimos live in their country after they have learned what is to be had and seen in civilized places. Just think! They have no theaters, no hotels, no trains, no street cars, no shops, no schools, no churches, no clubs, no yachts, no scandals—they positively have nothing that we have."

"Possibly that is the reason they stay where they are," ventured the man with the dinner jacket.—Judge.

When She Listens.

"Poor Henpeck! Every time he starts to say anything his wife stops him."

"Not always. He has a habit of talking in his sleep, and when he does that she just listens breathlessly."—Philadelphia Press.

The Charming Woman

is not necessarily one of perfect form and features. Many a plain woman who could never serve as an artist's model, possesses those rare qualities that all the world admires; neatness, clear eyes, clean, smooth skin and that sprightliness of step and action that accompany good health. A physically weak woman is never attractive, not even to herself. Electric Bitters restore weak women, give strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, beautiful complexion. Guaranteed at R. R. Bellamy's Druggist 50c.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE

—Fayetteville, N. C., July 20: A contract has been awarded for the erection of the auditorium company's opera house on the corner of Person and Dick streets.

—More than $25,000 has already been subscribed in the Greensboro Building and Loan Association, which was organized a few days ago, and the promoters expect to accomplish their purpose of making this the banner association of the State.

—The report of the managers of the Wilson dispensary shows that the gross proceeds, of the instinction for the first six months this year amounted to $17,003.87. The net profits were $14,066.11. The town and county share equally in the profits.

—Wadesboro, July 20: The contracts for the installation of Wadesboro's sewer system has been awarded to Mr. J. M. Bandy, hydraulic and sanitary engineer, of Greensboro. Preliminary surveys for the work will begin Monday, August 25th.

—Fayetteville, July 19: An unusual case was tried before Magistrate C. P. Overby yesterday when J. J. Pate and his sons, J. F. and Wm. Pate, were charged with assault upon J. F. West, a policeman, on the 4th of July. After the evidence the defendants were discharged, and a warrant was issued for Policeman West for an assault on J. J. Pate, with the deadly weapon, a pistol and a billie.

—Mooresville, July 21: The Mooresville Enterprise, which has been published for over eleven years as a weekly paper, will be changed next month to a semi-weekly. It has purchased a new Babcock press and linotype machine and will make a very fine appearance in its new dress. Mr. M. S. Ozment is building a new brick structure on Broad street for the home of The Enterprise which is promised to be ready for it August 1st.

—Cary, N. C., July 20.—Mr. Harvie Jordan and Mr. C. C. Moore spoke today before a large crowd of farmers. The coming of Mr. Jordan has been awaited by our people with much interest and they are much delighted of the clever way in which Mr. Jordan explained why it is necessary that they organize. Presidents Jordan, and Moore, of the North Carolina Association, will speak at Lillington, tomorrow, at Holly Springs Tuesday and at Apex Wednesday.

—Salisbury, July 20: This city is to have a branch of the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Company and when it is completed the works will have cost upwards of $30,000. The factory will employ 50 or more men and a large business will be done. This matter was settled upon yesterday when Mr. L. A. Carr, of Durham, came here and took in the city for the purpose of locating this manufactory here. T. H. Vanderford, Sr., offered a tract of land adjoining the Brown Furniture Factory and the building will be erected upon it.

—Charlotte Observer: "The condition of the cotton crop has improved wonderfully during the past two weeks. One leading merchant was heard to say yesterday that never before had he known such a marked change for the better to take place within such a short period. Where heretofore there has been apprehension as to a too-small crop there has succeeded a feeling courage for a yield of reasonable proportions. All those interested in cotton throughout the South are beginning to take heart and are beginning to expect what a month ago they hardly dared to hope for. The prospects in all sections of the belt have improved wonderfully and with favorable seasons from now on the crop will be a fair one."

—Atlanta, July 20: President Harvie Jordan of the Southern Cotton Association, will probably investigate the new spray of turpentine which is said to be an effective preventive of boll weevil, and if he finds that it does the work, he will probably recommend it to farmers as a means of getting rid of the pest. The spray was originated by a Louisana farmer, who is said to have got good results with it. The spray consists of one part turpentine to ten parts of water, and the plant is sprayed with it every ten days. Sprays have been used effectively on fruit trees and plants, the farmers are watching with great interest further experiments that may be made with with a spray of turpentine on cotton.

A Wonderful Happening.

Port Byron, N. Y., has witnessed one of the most remarkable cases of healing ever recorded. Amos F. King, of that place says: "Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured a sore on my leg with which I had suffered over 80 years. I am now eighty five." Guaranteed to cure all sores, by R. R. Bellamy, Druggist, 25c.

THE PEOPLE ALL

In Chorus Cried, Give Us Newbro's Herpicide.

This word of late has been in everyone's mouth, and many are wondering what the word signifies, though no one has yet been found, who will deny that NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE does the work. Well, for the information of thousands of people who like to know all about a good thing, we would say that HERPICIDE means, a destroyer or killer of "Herpes." Now "Herpes" is the family name of a disease caused by various vegetable parasites. A similar microbe causes dandruff, itching scalp, and falling hair; this is the microbe that NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE promptly destroys; after which the hair grows. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to the Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.

Belle of Virginia BLENDED RYE

When a man goes for a drink of Belle of Virginia Whiskey he hurries because he knows he will have a fine drink, and when he comes away he smiles and smacks his lips because he has had it. Belle of Virginia is a blended whiskey—a rye whiskey carefully and scientifically blended from fine, pure, old whiskies. It's a really good honest article and to those who like a blended whiskey it will give satisfaction clear down to the ground.

Sold at the places where gentlemen go to get a drink.

THE COTTON MARKET.

(By Wire to the Morning Star.)

New York, July 22.—The cotton market had quite a sharp advance during today's trading and closed firm at a net advance of 8 to 17 points. Sales were estimated at 300,000 bales.

The market opened steady at a decline of 3 to 5 points during the first hour sold off to a net decline of about 7 to 8 points on the active months under bear pressure which seemed to be directed chiefly against August and scattering liquadation. Apprehensions of hot dry weather in the belt were relieved to some extent by the western belt forecast calling for showers in some sections, but later in the session the market rallied on private wires reported excessive heat during the middle of the day in various sections of the eastern and central belts. Temperatures of slightly over a hundred degrees were reported at some points and it was predicted that the detailed reports tomorrow would make a bullish showing. After rallying to about the closing figures of Saturday the market ruled very quiet during the middle session but became quite active and firm later when it looked as though the bear clique was buying. The close was at practically the top prices for the day. After the close the local bear leader issued a crop report estimating an improvement in condition since June 17 of about 9.6 per cent. Liverpool was considered about as due on the New York close of Saturday and cables attracted little attention.

Arrivals here from abroad were reported of about 16,000 bales making about 30,000 bales brought back from the other side this summer.

Receipts of cotton at the ports today 1,500 bales against 1,848 last week and 5,005 last year. For the week 10,000 bales against 10,361 last week and 29,528 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 354 bales against 724 last year and at Houston 55 bales against 586 last year.

Spot cotton quiet and steady; middling upland 12.95; middling gulf 13.20; sales 7.007.

GREAT DISASTER ON PACIFIC COAST

Between 100 and 150 Lives Lost in Midnight Collision Yesterday Morning.

PARTICULARS ARE MEAGRE

Passenger Steamer Columbia and Lumber Laden Schooner Came Together With Fearful Results. The Rescued Landed.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Eureka, Cal., July 22.—The best advices tonight are that 200 of the 249 souls on board thes teamer Columbia escaped death when that vessel went to the bottom near Shelter Cover, between midnight and 1 o'clock Sunday morning in a collision with the steam schooner San Pedro. Of the Columbia's passengers 107 and 37 of her crew have been landed here and a late message from Shelter Cove says that four more life boats have been picked up with possibly fifty of the survivors originally thought to have been lost.

San Francisco, July 22.—One of the worst marine disasters in the history of the California coast in which between one and one hundred and fifty lives were lost, as far as has been learned, was a midnight collision between the steamer Columbia and the steam lumber laden schooner San Pedro in Shelter Cove, twelve miles Southwest of the Medocono-Humboldt county line, between 12 and 1 o'clock yesterday morning. Only meagre details of the tragedy have been received, though every effort has been made to get the facts. Scores of telegrams to Eureka, the nearest point of importance, remain unanswered. The meagre details were brought by a steamer and the steamship Daisy Mitchell which arrived in San Francisco this morning.

The Columbia, a 300 foot steel vessel of the San Francisco and Portland Steamship Company, while bound from San Francisco for Portland, Oregon, wtih 1,896 passengers and a crew of 60 collided with and was rammed by the San Pedro, a 170 foot wooden steamer, southbound for this city. The sea was smooth but the weather was foggy. The San Pedro, loomed up out of the mist a few ships' lengths away, bore down on the Columbia at high speed, despite frantic efforts to clear With a grinding crash, the San Pedro sank her stem fully ten feet into the Columbia's port.

Nearly all of the Colubia's passengers and many of her crew were asleep in their cabins and bunks when the crash came. As the San Pedro backed away the sea poured in through the ragged hole in the Columbia's bow above and below the water line and in five minutes the Columbia sank to the bottom, the deep waters of Shelter Cove covering over the tops of the Columbia's masts.

The story of that five minutes is yet to be told and as it is told by some survivors the facts of the tragedy can be but guessed at. According to J. S. Flynn, a passenger on the Roanoke, Captain Doran of the Columbia, succeeded in launching four life boats and two rafts before the Columbia sank. Flynn in an interview is quoted as saying that 88 passengers, all men, got away in that manner, and were saved; that Captain Doran acted with great coolness in the face of death and went down with his ship. Flynn is quoted further as saying that not one of the hundred odd women passengers were saved.

Shortly after the collision, the steamers Roanoke and George W.Elder, and the steam schooner Daisy Mitchell, all southbound, came on the scene and stood by. The Elder took the San Pedro in tow and the latet report announces their arrival in Eureka. The stem of the San Pedro was snapped off at the deck, she was settling and had a heavy list when taken in tow. Captain Hansen remained on board.

The Daisy Mitchell offered assistance to the Elder but this was declined. She picked up a life boat and a raft of the Columbia and brought them to this city.

Near the scene of the wreck the Roanoke picked up a life raft and found underneath it the dead body of a passenger, supposed to be Edward Butler, of Portsmouth, N. H.

The officers of the Merchants' Exchange in this city and of the various newspapers have been beseiged since early morning by relatives and friends of the Columbia's passengers, but the insistent and tearful requests for information of the victims and the rescued remain unsatisfied. Beyond the repored facts that Butler was drowned and that Captain Doran went down with his ship no details of casulties have been received.

Assistant President Frye of the steamship company said this afternoon that the Columbia lies in deep water and 15 miles off shore and that for the present at least no attempt will be made to raise her.

Captain Doran wa regarded by the officials of the San Francisco and Portland Steamship Company as one of the ablest seamen who ever operated a vessel on the coast. His career had been free from accidents and this is the first disaster that has befallen any vessel of which he held command.

Rescued Being Landed.

Eureka, Calif., July 22.—Of the 249 people on the steamer Columbia which was run into and sunk early Sunday mssssssssssssssssbmbmbmbmbmmm morning by the lumber laden schooner San Pedro, one hundred and forty four were brought here today by the teamer Elder. Of these 107 were passengers and 37 members of the crew of the Columbia.

DEATH SENTENCE FOR KARL HAU

Former Law Professor Found Guilty in Germany of a Atrocious Murder.

A SCENE OF RIOTING

Verdict Not Popular With "Hero Warshippers Who Followed The Triel. Notice of Appeal Given—Infantry Called Out.

(By Cable to the Morning Star.

Karlruhe, July 22.—Karl Hau, a br illiant young law professor of Washington, D. C., was condemned to death today after a five days trial for the murder of his wife's mother, Frau Militor, a wealthy resident of Raden Baden, in that city November 6th last.

The prisoner heard the verdict of jury with perfect composure and chattered smilingly with his counsel after the judges withdrew to fix his sentence. Upon the return of t he judges, Hau arose and standing erect with folded arms, listened to the sentence without moving a muscle. A moment later he was hurried away to prison by half a dozen policemen. The sentence is unpopular with the street crowds which have Hau's favor and against the Molitor family.

After the adjournment of the court for an hour's recess at 8 o'clock last evening the women of the Molitor party were compelled to remain in one of the offices of the court house because it was dangerous for them to appear in the streets. A carriage waited for them in the court yard and it was several hours before they were able to leave. Meanwhile enormous crowds had assembled in the streets adjacent to the court house. Cordons of police kept the crowds in check for an hour or more but then lost control of them, the masses pushing and crushing forward to the doors with the evident intention of storming the entrance.

There were many shouts of "Hau is not guilty" from the crowd, the voices penetrating to the court room. Finally two companies of infantry and a squadron of mounted police appeared on the scene and drove the rioters before them. The infantry with fixed bayonets cleared all the streets within three hundred yards of the court house. A large number of arrests were made. One old woman was trampled down by the horses and it is reported that several were wounded.

The demonstration in favor of Hau appears to be due largely to the same maudlin sentiment which has made a hero of many another accused of a daring crime. To the unthinking people Hau's daring trip to Baden Baden made him appear a hero. Another reason for the demonstration that have taken place in the last few days appears in the State's attorneys manner of conducting the prosecution and it is further explained by the citizens that the Molitors are unpopular in Karlruhe having lived here until 1899.

The sentencing of Hau does not end the case, Dr. Dietz, his counsel, in the address practically having given notice of an appeal.

—But what about Hearst? He isn't saying a great deal these days about the nomination. It is known, however, that he is to be nominated by his own party, the Independent League. It is believed that he intends to use the league to get the Democratic nomination, just as he used it to get the Democratic nomination for Governor of New York. It is known that he is working silently and energetically to accomplish that object. He has money and a corps of as shrewd political managers as it is possible to get together. It was thought impossible that he could get the Democratic nomination for Governor of New York, but he got it. What is to prevent him from getting the Democratic nomination for President by the same ticket? All he has to do is to extend the operations of his Independence League and to put out a greater amount of money to bring about a situation that the Democratic leaders would have to consider very seriously, if they wanted their party to win. It does look as if the Democratic party ought to be getting ready for the 1908 campaign.—Savannah News (Dem).

A FINAL WORD FOR HAYWOOD

Attorney Richardson Spoke Over Four Hours For Defence at Boise Yesterday.

HEARING AS TO PERJURY

Dr. I. L. McGee, One of State's Witnesses, on the Rack Yesterday. Mr. Richardson Made Final Appeal.

(By Wire to The Morning Star.)

Boise City, July 22.—For four hours and a half today E. F. Richardson pleaded with the jury for the life of William D. Haywood. After the order of the court, the hours for the day's sesions were changed and in place of sitting in the afternoon court met at 6 o'clock this evening. Judge Wood was informed by the jury that the extreme heat of the court room was too trying on some of the jurors and he complied with the request for a late evening session.

A preliminary of the case of Dr.I. L. McGee, one of the witnesses for the defense charged with perjury, came up this afternoon and will be continued tomorrow. Orchard was on the stand for over an hour and was given a severe grilling in the cross examination by McGee's counsel. The prisoner witness, however, maintained his characterictic calm throughout. He denied that he was at Coeur d'alene at the time McGee swore to a meeting with him at Wallace. C. W. Aller, the witness for the defense who is under perjury charges was today bound over for trial in the district court.

The excellent character and consistent philanthropy of the Western Federation of Miners; the patient suffering of labor union under the lash of capital and the perjury and perfidy of Harry Orchard were the main points in Attorney Richardson's opening argument in the defense of Haywood. this morning.

Mr. Richardson sub-divided his argument under eleven heads which he enumerated to the jury today. It is probable the argument will take two days.

Discussing the law as applied to Orchard, Mr. Richardson said the corroborating evidence in support of a confession witness must be something that standing by itself, separate and apart from the witnesses' story, is sufficient to remove all reasonable doubt as to the defendant's guilt. He charged that the State had no corroborative circumstances of that character as to the murder of Governor Steunenberg and for that reason a general conspiracy was charged and all the events of the Colorado labor trouble was gone into.

But, said Mr. Richardson, the conspiracy that the prosecution complains of is a lawful conspiracy.

Delving into the Coeur D'Alene troubles Mr. Richardson declared that most of the mines there were owned by the Standard Oil Company and he proclaimed that wherever conditions were such as to create a Rockefellor at one of the line and a man with gaunt dinner pail at the other, more or less friction or trouble is bound to occur.

—Charlotte Observer: "While Engineer A. J. Huneycutt and Conductor T. A. Allison were at dinner yesterday afternoon between 12 and 1 o'clock, someone climbed into the cab of switch engine No. 1668 standing in the yards near the Southern freight depot, turned on the throttle and hurled the string of 14 box cars hard against the side of Burwell & Dunn's big brick building. The end car, No. 1085, broke the heavy back stop on the elevated track, leaped across a 10 foot alley, crashed through the strong wall, tore down a great section of shelves, cut through great piles of goods, and never stopped until it had penetrated more than two-thrirds of the store. No exact estimate could be had yesterday afternoon as to the loss. Some said that $10,000 would cover all of the damage while others estimate the loss at a much higher figure."

—Lumberton, July 20: The Farmers' Institute party, composed of Dr. Tait Butler, of Raleigh; Colonel Redding, of Georgia; Mr. Layton, of Bladen county; and Mrs. F. L. Stevens, and Mrs. Walter Grimes, of Raleigh, held the first meeting of their series yesterday at Raft Swamp Church, Robeson county. A large gathering of several hundred representatives farmers and their wives and daughters were early at the institute and much interest was manifested throughout the day fn both departments. An excellent dinner was served in the grove surrounding the church, making the gathering social as well as educational. Dr. Butler's talks were unusually comprehensive and instructive and the practical talks concerning household affairs of Mrs. Grimes and Mrs. Stevens pleased not only the women of the gathering but were listened to most attentively by numbers of men.
